Intern positions 2023

Scaled Impact is a project developer and strategic advisory company based in Johannesburg and Berlin. We are a not-for-profit social enterprise. Founded in 2016 we have a series of projects across Southern Africa that we are managing to prove concept, attract funding and take to commercial scale.

Our projects are selected to:

- Drive economic empowerment across Southern Africa
- Link small scale and emerging farmers to large scale markets
- Implement circular economy management and methods
- Develop transparent and effective supply chains

We also advise several large companies and government departments on issues of development strategy.

We are looking for a small number of interns to join us in April 2023 for twelve weeks. They will work on specific projects conducting strategic analysis, business model development and marketing activity. We are a small team so there will be good senior exposure, working with experienced managers. It also means being able to work independently without continuous oversight.

Our approach is highly applied. Staff working with us will work on real world problems creating and applying commercial solutions that create jobs in very poor areas, raise household incomes and create sustainable socially-oriented companies.

The people we are looking for are:

- Highly motivated and driven by wanting to make a social contribution
- Self-motivating and able to work without great direct oversight
- Commercially aware. Some understanding of business, trading and marketing is valuable
- Have some knowledge or experience in emerging markets and ideally Sub-Saharan Africa
- Able to write with a good grasp of Microsoft Office products, mainly Word and Excel
- Fluent in English

These are full time paid positions. Location is flexible and remote working is possible.

We promote diversity. Do not include a photograph on your CV. First interviews will be by telephone.

Please submit a short covering letter and CV to: careers@scaledimpact.org

Deadline for applications is Tuesday, 28th of March 2023 at 5:00 pm CET.
